foreign medicine which appeared in the Sinpan. The Sin-pan is a journal started in Shanghai by the mandarins to counteract the influence of the Shen-pao, which journal propounds very liberal opinions and has proved a great success. The Sin-pao, in spite of its official backers, finds little favour among native readers, and this is not be wondered under the direction of Sergeant Hassard, played a harsh one, but at the time it was passed it discussions with him, thus causing much anxiety readily repelled by the Chinese gunbeats, unless find place in its columns as that on foreign | house. medicine above referred to. The writer commences by lamenting the decline of Chinese medical knowledge in modern days, and deplores the fact that the native doctors regard medicine merely as a means of making money instead of a method of saving life, and that instead of studying it, the professors of the healing art only care about getting fees, and are reckless of their patients lives.

In the the statements - but they are only the basis upon which an attack is made by this scribe upon foreign medical science. "Most reckless of all are those," he says, who have begun to practise medicine on the foreign system." He then goes on to remark that foreign medical science cannot compare with the Chinese in point of age and be therefore wonders foreigners have not taken to the long established system. of China in preference to their own, which is in its infancy. We might imagine that the writer was attempting a clumsy joke, but for what follows. He proceeds to terms :- "Because they know nothing of the pay no attention to the pulse; because they a junk equipped for the purposes of piracy, know nothing of the nature of drugs, they force upon their putients pills, powders, plasters, and potions, without knowing any thing about them. They never adopt the plan of writing out descriptions of cases In their surgical practice, they cut, slice, chop, and hack in the cruelest manner. They perform the most borrible and disgusting of operations with the nonchalance of a juggler playing with his ivory balls, utterly regardless of their patient's life. The proverb that it is no good to cure a disease if you kill your patient applies to them thoroughly. These doctors are just like executioners, except that the latter kill by order those who ought to die." This is almost too absurd to need refutation. Few of the natives who have had acquaintance with foreigners would endorse these silly and unfounded state. ments. They were probably penned by some irate quack, who found his practice linterfered with by a pupil from one of the Medical Mission Hospitals. Hundreds of Chinese owe their lives to the skilfully wielded kuife of the foreign surgeon, and thousands more have to thank foreign medical science for relief from disease which otherwise would have clung to them through life. THE NEW VICEROY OF INDIA.

Some little sensation has been created by the statement that the Marquis of Ripon is a Jesuit The Globe of to-day, referring to the report says:--" Up to the present moment we have pur posely refrained from criticising the somewhat unusual proceeding of appointing a Roman Ca. thelic to such a high and immensely powerful position as that of Viceroy of Hindostan. seemed to us that the religious views of Lord Ripon could not do much harm in this post a all events, while his appointment would gratify the Roman Catholics of England by showing that the State did not consider their creed an absolute bar to office. It was our conviction, of course—in spite of the contrary impressions spread abroad by certain ill-considered writings of Mr. Gladstone-that Lord Ripon would keer not in the slightest degree touched by sectarian bias. But the matter assumes an altogether different aspect, if there be any truth in the report now current on the Continent, that his lordship is a member of the Society of Jesuits This statement is quite openly made by fervent Roman Catholics on the other side of the Channel, and they proclaim aloud their joy at what they consider a signal mark of favour to their oreed, bestowed on it by the Protestant Government of Protestant England. New, whatever doubts may gather round the expediency of appointing Roman Catholics to high office, there connot be two opinions about the unfitness of Jesuits. Members of the most powerful propagandist organisation this would has ever seen, rigorously bound down by its inflarible rules, under the most solemn obligations, to place the interest of the Roman Catholic Church above those of whatever Binto they may belong to always under the dire influer and the masters of the Order, Jesuits are not fit to be trusted by the Government, much less by that of a Protestant country. If Lord Ripon is, one, if will be his highest duty in India to promote the interests, not of Great Britain, but of Rome, and it is, we doubt not a belief that he will do so which now causes so much gladuess in the Ultramontane world. The matter is so important, the interests at stake so vital, and the Protestant feeling of this country is beginning to be so greatly alarmed, that not a minute should be lost by Lord Ripon's friends in denying the report—if they can deny it." It is to be hoped that Lord Ripon's friends can deny the report. The Marquis, as your readers are doubtless aware, is a "vert," and it is notorious that the verts are usually the most zealous and bigoted of all Catholies. PEONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service. this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have to late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is ANNUAL INCOME £250,000 Sterling. fully illustrated and explained, forming exercisesfor students of a most instructive nature. Both Athe Court and Punti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the wast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst FIHE Undersigned, Agents at Hongkong for Customers may be misled and induced to think this work contains more than 50,000 English | the above Company, are prepared to grant words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese charac- Policies against FIRE, to the extent of £10,000 ters.
